STATION AGENT AT ARTHUR MURDERED THERE LAST NIGHT

Unknown Assailants Shoot "Rel" Baldwin When He Calls To Them—No Trace Found of Men Who Escaped.

LOCAL OFFICERS BELIEVE MURDERERS FUGITIVE PRISONERS

R. H. ("Rel") Baldwin, merchant and station agent at Arthur, Tenn., for about fifteen years, was murdered last night in Arthur by two unknown assailants. He is survived by a wife and two sons.

Mr. Baldwin was sitting on the porch of his store with his son, Cres, about 9 o'clock last night when he heard some one shaking the station door, about 100 yards away. It was too dark for the Baldwins to see any one or to be seen where they were sitting. When they heard the noise, thinking that some one was breaking in the station, Baldwin and his son got up and started that way. When they got about half way, Baldwin called to the men. Immediately they began to shoot. Baldwin was mortally wounded by one of the shots and he staggered back about fifteen steps and fell dead. The son, Cres, who is about 18 years old, was unhurt and he ran to report the matter.

The assailants had fled when a search party was aroused. Bloodhounds from La Follette were immediately sent for and put on the track. They followed a trail to Cumberland Gap and then stopped. No further trace of the men has been found.

Officers here believe that those may be the same men who escaped from here Thursday morning after holding up and tying their guard. These men had guns and were, undoubtedly, desperate characters.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF CURFEW LAW AFTER OCTOBER 1

Strict enforcement of the curfew law in Middlesboro will start after the first of October, Chief H. E. Ball announced this morning. By this law all children under 16 years of age must be off the streets at 9 o'clock, unless accompanied by older persons. The curfew bell will be rung at 9 o'clock every night and the officers instructed to enforce its observance to the letter.

Chief Ball said he believed this would do more good for the children here than anything they had tried in a long time. He urged the parents to cooperate with the officers in this matter.

HON. J. M. ROBSION HERE IN INTEREST OF NATIONAL PARK

Believes Congress Will Appropriate Funds For Park Unless Economy of Administration Carried Farther.

CONGRESSMAN SURE OF REELECTION NOVEMBER 7

Congressman J. M. Robsion was here today on his way to his home at Barbourville from Washington, D. C. Mr. Robsion is the representative from this, the Eleventh Congressional District of Kentucky, and he is Republican candidate at the November election this year.

Mr. Robsion was here particularly in the interest of the national park which he is strongly advocating in Congress for the vicinity of Cumberland Gap. He believes that, with the improved roads that is being made in this section and with the natural qualifications for a great park that the location has, every thing should be done to put one there. "The only difficulty will be with the appropriation," he said. "Congress is making a stupendous effort to cut taxes and that body hesitates to spend money at this time unless it is absolutely necessary."

The congressman explained the financial condition of the government and the reason, perhaps not clear to every one, for taxes being so high. Before the war he said, a billion dollars was a big annual appropriation. The last year of Wilson's administration the appropriation was over six and a half billion. This year, by cutting the army and navy, by dismissing about 400,000 useless office holders and by pruning expenses at every angle, the appropriation has been reduced to less than four billion. A big item in the increased appropriation, Mr. Robsion showed, is that now the United States has to pay over a billion dollars interest on the war loan and that the compensation to World War veterans costs about $500,000,000 yearly. Besides a sinking fund must be created to take care of the war debt which has been reduced two billion dollars in Harding's administration already.

Representative Robsion's greatest interest, though, is in good roads. It was he who introduced the Federal Road Aid Bill and helped get it passed. The great feature of this bill he said this morning, is that when once a road is built, the state must maintain it forever and keep a crew on the roads repairing them whenever they start to go bad. Then, too, he said that formerly the county was the agent through which the Federal government worked on the roads, but that now the government and the state went fifty-fifty in building the road and the state arranged with the county or individuals the local financial side.

Mr. Robsion spoke highly of Middlesboro its people, its improvement and its natural beauty. "There is something about this mountain country, if you have lived here long enough, that makes you want never to leave it," he said. The congressman expressed confidence in his reelection November 7, saying that he believed he would poll three times more votes than both Seary and Sipple, his opponents.

The National Bank flower show will be one of the prettiest features of the festival display. Prizes of $5, $2, and $2 have been offered for the best collection of flowers shown. This is one of the few classes of exhibits which will be open to Middlesboro people. This has been done and the extra prizes offered because it was realized that there are so many lovely flowers grown here, and the bank was anxious to have local people take part in the exhibit.

R. K. Judy, cashier of the National bank, says that the bank intends to make an annual or semi-annual event of the flower show and that after this the exhibits will be shown in the bank.

DISTINCT PROGRESS IN AUGUST TRADE

Eighth Federal Reserve District Report Tells of Good Business Despite Strikes

By Associated Press

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—Distinct progress was recorded in trade and industry during the last thirty days in spite of a number of unfavorable factors according to the monthly review of business conditions in the Eighth Federal Reserve Bank. The volume of trade as a whole was big, the report points out, and several leading lines reported sales of the largest o far this season and well in excess of the corresponding period a year ago.

"The recent upward trend in prices of many goods for common consumption has had a tendency to stimulate purchasing by retail merchants," the report states.

"As was the case during the preceding month, there was numerous complaints from manufacturers of retarded production and higher costs, due o delayed deliveries of raw materials. Settlement of the soft coal strike, however, eliminated one of the chief factors causing this condition and the return of the miners to work served to banish much of the fear and uncertainty relative to fuel supplies during the coming fall and winter. Merchants report a much improved feeling in the coal producing areas, but as yet it is too early for the resumption of activities to be reflected in actual sales or collections."

August Bad For Agriculture.

August was an unfavorable month for agricultural development throughout the district the report indicates because of the high temperature of the first week of September caused further lowering of prospective yields. The condition of all crops on which official reports were received showed considerable deterioration during the month.

"The heaviest losses were in cotton, corn, fruits and tobacco. According to the estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, the cotton crop in States of this district was damaged to the extent of 290,000 bales between July 25 and August 25, while corn prospects were cut during August by 28,202,000 bushels. In Kentucky the tobacco crop on September 1 was estimated at 454,212,000 pounds, which contrasts with prospects on August 1 of a yield of 520,279,000 pounds.

In Kentucky the tobacco crop went back badly, both in point of quantity and quality, according to the report. Early firing was reported generally in Kentucky and much of the crop was cut prematurely. The report refers to the success of the organization of the dark patch and states that the farmers are expecting very satisfactory prices when the tobacco market opens this fall.

Corn deteriorated in all states of the district during the last thirty days. Kentucky's estimated crop was from 63 to 80 per cent.

Building Situation Normal.

"The building situation in this district developed no change worthy of note during the past thirty days," the report states.

"In some localities, particularly in the south, work of construction was delayed because of interference with delivery of materials by the railroad strike. Building permits issued by the five leading cities of the district in August showed an important numerical increase over July, and fell slightly below the preceding month in dollars and cents. As compared with a year ago a heavy gain was shown both in number and amount. Approximately 50 per cent of the August permits were for dwellings, and slightly 3 1-2 per cent of the permits ... garages. Building operations ... ville for the fiscal year ... gust 31 were more than ... for the twelve months ... preceding. The trend of ... permits ... to ...

SEATTLE HAS LARGEST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

By Associated Press

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The First Presbyterian church of Seattle, Wash., having a membership of 7,066, is the largest church of its denomination in the country, according to the annual report of the church for the year ending Easter, now being filed.

The Central church of Brooklyn, with almost 4,000 members, ranks second while the number of churches with 1,000 or more members has increased from 131 in 1920 to 167. These are less than two per cent of the total number of 9,560 churches in the denomination but they have 14 per cent of the total membership of 1,757,000, the report states.

The Synod of New York is largest with Pennsylvania and Ohio ranking in the order named.

REGISTRATION DAYS ARE NEXT WEEK

Citizens Must Register In Respective Wards To Be Eligible To Vote Here.

Registration Days for Middlesboro have been set this year for October 3, 7 and 14. The first is set by the state and the last two by the city. Registering gives voters the privilege of voting in the November election and also to vote in the August primaries next year.

This November, voting will be on United States Congressman, for which office the candidates are Representative J. M. Robsion, Republican, C. J. Sipple, Democratic, and J. C. Seary, Farmer-Labor candidate; on the $400,000 road bond issue; and on the question whether Middlesboro will continue its present form of city government with a mayor and twelve councilmen, or return to the commission form of government. At the primaries next August, candidates for council or commission and other important officials will be voted on.

Both men and women of Middlesboro who are eligible to vote are urged to register and qualify as voters on these important questions. It is a person's duty as a citizen of the United States, Bell county, of Middlesboro to vote and take a part in the politics of this section. If one does not do this, he or she has no right to protest bad government anywhere.

Registration will be at places to be designated next week, and people must register in the ward in which they vote.

Judge Believes There Were Intimate Relations Between Mrs. Tiernan And Haberdasher.

By Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Sept. 30.—Harry Poulin, haberdasher, charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with being the father of her third child, was found not guilty in the city court here today.

Judge Ducom made it plain in his comment that he found the defendant "not guilty" in the strict sense of the word, but he believed there had been intimate relations between Mrs. Tiernan and Poulin. The fact, however, that Tiernan lived with his wife throughout the entire affair created reasonable doubt that made it legally compulsory to find for the defendant. Professor Tiernan announced the case would be carried to the Supreme C... if necessary, Tiernan said ...

W. C. T. U. MEMBERSHIP GROWING IN COUNTRY

By Associated Press

Evanston, Ill., Sept 30.—The world's Women's Christian Temperance Union, which will hold its tenth convention at Philadelphia, November 11-16, has 1,000,000 members of forty nationalities according to a statement from headquarters here of the national organization. The first president of the international organization was Margaret Bright Lucas, sister of John Bright, British prime minister. Her successors were Frances E. Willard, Lady Henry Somerset, and Rosalind, Countess of Carlyle. Since the countess' death, Miss Anna A. Gordon, vice president, has been acting president.

Miss Willard is said to have conceived the idea of an international organization for temperance as the result of a visit to Chinatown in San Francisco. She founded the World's W. C. T. U. in 1883. "We are one world of tempted humanity," she wrote.

About a year later a petition for world-wide prohibition, drafted by Willard, was circulated in various countries. Miss Willard said that to enumerate the languages of the signers would be "to make a list of almost every tongue that has survived the confusion of Babel." They totaled seven and one half million. The petition was presented to President Cleveland and to Great Britain.

Everything has its bright side. About 100,000 tons of figs were burned by the Turks.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MAYSVILLE WOMAN WRITES PRIZE STATE MEMORIAL POEM

Maysville, Sept. 30.—Formal award of the prize to Mrs. Eleanor Duncan Wood for writing Kentucky's Memorial Poem was made here last night in the Presbyterian church. The poem "In Memoriam" will dedicate the Memorial building to be erected on the campus of the University of Kentucky, at Lexington in honor of the 3,056 Kentuckians who lost their lives in the World war.

Representatives of the American Legion, War Mothers, American Legion Auxiliary, women's clubs and other patriotic and civic organizations attended the ceremony. Prominent among those joining in the celebration of the winning of a state-wide contest by the Maysville writer, was the famous Boys' Band, augmented, with a total of 60 pieces.

Professor L. L. Dantzler of the University of Kentucky, chairman of the Committee on Awards, made the speech of presentation to Mrs. Wood, who has been a frequent contributor of verse to leading periodicals for several years. Professors C. E. Freeman of Transylvania College and W. P. Jones, of Georgetown College, also members of the Committee on Awards, were present.

W. C. Wilson, of Lexington, state commander of the American Legion, said: "On behalf of the American Legion of Kentucky, it is my pleasure to endorse heartily this plan to commemorate in poetry as well as with a great Memorial Hall the sacrifice of Kentucky's heroes in the World War.

"Each of the lines in this poem represent the loss of 100 Kentuckians. May each of them in turn prove an inspiration to thousands of young people of the state to devote themselves to the prevention of future wars and the preservation of the ideals for which our comrades died."

The prize winning poem follows:

"IN MEMORIAM"

Dear Motherland, Kentucky, here we bring
The names of these thy sons, who nobly died;
Who for Thy Sake and Freedom's put aside
Young Love, and lusty life, and call of spring,
And strode down death's dark ways adventuring.

We cannot bring them back! We cannot give
To their young eyes the joy of sunrise, nor
To eager ears that call they harkened for—
The cardinal among the hills of home. They live
But in our hearts—and these are fugitive.

We shall go down to dust even as they.
So to thy heart, Kentucky, bring me now
These deathless names. A coronet for thy brow,
Best-loved and beautiful. And thou shalt pay
Unending honor till time's latest day.

And it shall be throughout the coming years
Young hearts shall proudly read these hero-names
And feel within their own the sacred flames.
"We'll live for what they died for—spite of fears";
So faith shall bring once more from blood and tears.

Keep safe these names thy sons who would not save
Themelves nit prive of liberty and thee.
The "Old Kentucky Home" shall hallowed be
Throughout the ages by the blood they gave;
Keep thou them safe thy beautiful and brave!

OUR HONEY

The recovery of business this year has extended into that mysterious civilization of the insect world—the activities of bees

Bees have speeded up And the 1922 yield of honey will be a whopper, possibly breaking all records if preliminary reports to the Department of Agriculture pan out as expected

Next time Willie spreads honey too thickly on his bread or buckwheat cakes maybe you can check him by telling him this

To make one pound of honey bees have to carry 37 000 loads of nectar from flowers to hive

Infinitely patient and elaborate preparations, then it all vanishes in the human throat in a twinkling Such is life—nine tenths preparation one tenth realization

You use the expression BUSY AS A BEE But few of us realize just how busy bees are

They toil from sunrise until the last glimmer of light after sunset In summertime, at the height of their activity the life of worker bees is only a matter of months

They foolishly work themselves to death It reminds you of the man who slaves himself into the grave leaving his fortune to heirs who squander it quickly

With autumn comes rest for some of the bees death for many The queen and some of the workers survive the winter

When next spring comes Willie spreads honey too thickly on his bread or buckwheat cakes maybe you can check him by telling him this

COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAMS PLAY TODAY

By Associated Press

Lexington, Sept. 30.—Four Kentucky College teams are scheduled to do battle on the gridiron this afternoon, the games being openers for the 1922 season in only two instances. One team does not open the season until next week and two of the Kentucky pigskin outfits already have closed this fall.

Perhaps the game of greatest interest in the state is that between the University of Kentucky Wildcats and the Marshall College eleven, scheduled to take place on Stoll Field, Lexington, this afternoon. This will be Kentucky's opening game and much interest centers in this clash as the teams put up a strong fight in the opening encounter last season.

Centre College goes to Clemson for the Colonel's second tilt of 1922. With Captain "Red" Roberts probably missing from the lineup due to the death of his sister this week, the Colonels are still counted as easy winners by the Danville element.

Winchester will witness the first encounter between Kentucky Wesleyan and the Eastern State Normal, of Richmond. Wesleyan, after a fairly successful season last year, has started out with new life this season and the Clark Courtian are listed as certain winners in many of their games.

The University of Louisville eleven opens the 1922 season there with the Western State Normal, of Bowling Green, as the chief attraction. After several setbacks during the practice season the Cardinals now are said to be going good and in all probability will have easy sailing when they clash with the Western Kentucky boys this afternoon.

Transylvania has no game scheduled for this afternoon. The first game scheduled for the 1922 season will show the Srimsons lined up against Marshall college, at Huntington, West Virginia, next Saturday afternoon.

KENTUCKY WIMAN HAS PROFESSION IN CARING FOR FINE RACE HORSES

Kentucky's woman horse breeder, Miss Elizabeth Daingerfield, has today horses in her stables valued at close to a million dollars. Because of her success in the raising of fine horses, Man o' War, the famous race horse for which half a million has been refused has been placed in her care for more than a year.

Miss Daingerfield inherited her hobby from her father, a well known Virginian, in his native state, but later in Kentucky, as a judge of fine horses.

Miss Daingerfield does not visualize this profession which she has chosen as the coming one of the hour for women.

She, like Kipling, thinks horses and women much alike, according to a quotation from Kipling, "you never can tell until you have tried them and then you are not sure."

While Miss Daingerfield has a good car and uses it, yet she says there has always been and always will be a time and a place for a good horse. Miss Daingerfield is neither masculine nor is she bored with social life, tho the average social relaxation is taken along with the unusual work.

Many folks living north of the Mason-Dixon line have a habit of looking upon the South as the place where the Swanee River flows; where Uncle Tom has a cabin, and where a certain number of ladies and gentlemen have Old Kentucky Homes; otherwise they know little of the practical side of the south, and her women. This is an unusual profession, it is true, for women, yet Miss Daingerfield is only one of thousands of industrious southern ones who have a business career.—Ashland Independent.

FELT TIRED, SO TIRED

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping.

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine.

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs.

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time.

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.

Take Cardui. NC-147

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three time during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, and makes a delightful lithia-water drink.

When Washingt Knocked Out Columbus

No! Not a prize fight, but a knock-out blow for the early development of Kentucky. Washington, D. C., vs. Columbus, Ky.

Here's the story in brief:

The first Congress was called upon to decide upon a location for the Capital of these United States.

Thomas Jefferson, then Secretary of State under President Washington, wanted it at Columbus, Ky.

If you would know why his plan failed—why Washington was finally selected as the Capital—

This is but one of the many interesting stories of little known facts about the 120 counties of Kentucky which will come from the pen of the Louisville Post's gifted special writer, Mr. Ralph Coghlan.

Some of the others are: The story of Fluorspar, one of the most valuable metals in industry. How Paducah got its High School gymnasium. When King George ate Kentucky ham. The county which does not contain one illiterate child. Mayfield, "the old-fashioned girl," how she surpassed the country club flapper in everything really worth while. How $300,000 was spent by one county to get out of the mud. When President Tyler was a coal miner in Kentucky.

Evening Service

The Junior Department will have charge of this Service. The program is an unusually good musical hour consisting of vocal and instrumental music and sword drills. The story of Jesus will be told in Scripture and song.

Every department from the cradle roll to the adult classes has planed something of interest for you. Come out to hear all these Services.
